Captain Hastings convicted the accused upon the evidence submitted, and imposed a fine of $20, which was paid. A plumber who gave somewhat shady evidence for the defence was fined $2 for lying,

CHANG A To, hawker, was charged before Capt. Hastings, at the Magistracy this morning, with stealing five rolls of cloth from another hawker in Wing Shing Street on Wednesday. There was nothing remark. able about the case except that the accused was observed by Leung Shik, fireman at . the No. 5 Station, who at once gave chase -as he has done successfully in other cases of late-and arrested the purloiner of cloth. The defence was a curious one. The acoused stated that he was cook on board the steamer Cicero, that he wanted to buy some cloth but had no money, that he wanted the complainant to go on board the steamer with him, and that the complainant refused, threw down the rolls of cloth upon the street, and raised a cry that he (the accused) had stolen them. Captain Hastings inflicted sentence of pixty days' imprisonment

.Tng Hongkong 'Odd Volumes' have a going into the show business and propose to give Hongkong a novel treat. It has ther all the exhibits that are to be sent to these, along with a lot of other things that are not going to the Imperial Institute, in some reason which is not quite apparent at present. There will be music, and there will also be speeches by the leading local orators (including H. E. the Governor), and the committee of the Volumes will do all _ | that lies in their power to interest and instruct, perhaps even to amuse, the publicon the occasion. . The exhibition will completely annihilate the popular delusion that Hongkong can produce nothing but granite and scrip, and may perhaps be the first step towards deciding the question whether the next World's Fair is to be held in Hongkong. At all events, we hope the attend the show will spend a pleasant evering-if such a thing be yet possible without Ta-ra-ra, which, we understand, will not be in the programme.

the Christian Church, nor is it identical with any sect or denomination of it. This is a distinction of fundamental importance. The so-called 'Church' has often departed widely from real Christianity, and even while serving as an ark upon the waters in preserving what might else have perished as an organization it has often distinctly antagonized human progress, and that for long periods of time together. What then do we mean by Christianity ! We mean the system of religious faith and morals to be derived from the words, teachings, and characters of Jesus Christ, especially as conveyed to us in the Gospels. It evident that a human organization which teaches this system, may for various reasome embody much which is not only extrancous to real Christianity, but even altogother inconsistent with it. It is for this reason that we insist that Ohristianity is not the same as the Christian Church. Now what, in brief, has Christianity done for the world? What has it sotually accomplished in the lands where it has been most successful ? To answer this question: fully tion of the evidence in a charge against Li would require a volume-and here are many such -- but we must confine ourselves to a paragraph. Let us remember that Christianity is an Asiatio and a Semitic religion, but its chief success has not been in Asia nor among the Semitic races. Christianity was a seed a mustard-seedthrown into the seething Roman Empire.
